

Earth Day Natural Death Care Symposium

Natural Burial, Family-Directed Funerals and Rituals of Remembrance

3 workshops, a film, conversation, site tours + lunch

Join us for a heartfelt & practical day of learning and conversation - in Portland or the Columbia River Gorge.

Attend all or part of our day-long program:

- 3 informational workshops led by experts in the field
 - Natural Burial: Why, How, Where - led by David Noble, Executive Director of River View Cemetery
 - Home Funerals, DIY Memorials & Other Rituals of Remembrance - led by Holly Pruett, Life-Cycle Celebrant
 - Creating a Death Plan & Planning for a Natural Burial - led by Jodie Buller, Cemetery Manager for White Eagle Memorial Preserve
- Tours of the region's top urban & rural natural burial grounds
- The award-winning documentary A Will for the Woods
- Connect with others who want their death to reflect the environmental values they've practiced in life

Celebrate Earth Day with us this April!

Attend all or part of 1 or both days:

Saturday, April 9
9am - 5pm in Portland:
River View Cemetery

Friday, April 29
7pm Hood River Library
A Will for the Woods

Saturday, April 30
9am - noon Hood River Library
1:30 - 5pm White Eagle
Memorial Preserve,
Goldendale WA

Space is limited! Reserve your spot today.

Schedule & registration details on DeathTalkProject.com
$15 registration fee + optional lunch purchase.

Presented as a community service by the non-profit burial grounds River View Cemetery & White Eagle Memorial Preserve in partnership with Holly Pruett, Life-Cycle Celebrant, with support from Passages International & the Hood River Library.

